

2016 Annual Report

So if anyone is in Christ,
there is a new creation:
everything old has passed away; see everything has become new.

—2 Corinthians 5:17

Our Mission: Luther Seminary educates leaders for Christian communities, called and sent by the Holy Spirit, to witness to salvation in Jesus Christ, and to serve in God's world.

Our Vision: to be a catalyst of God's transforming work for church and world.

This past year marked the creation of our new three-year rolling strategic plan drawn from our deep commitment to our mission with a newly crafted vision. As we began our planning journey, we solicited significant input from many different people to ensure we considered the complex needs of the church and world. We prayerfully considered our vision for preparing a new generation of leaders. We identified three strategic priorities: transforming leaders, transforming learning community and transforming collaboration. We think these priorities will have the greatest impact on educating pastors and other church leaders for a changing church.

Transforming leaders

We've made great strides this year to provide dynamic programming to meet the needs of our nearly 600 degree students and nearly 4,000 pastors and other leaders who lead in a rapidly changing world. We've embraced adaptive ideas in order to successfully prepare our students to do God's work for the sake of the world.

Transforming learning community

We are moving forward with developing a more vibrant, diverse and sustainable residential and online learning community, responsive to the changing ways in which students learn, live, interact and worship.

Transforming collaboration

We are poised to take new and innovative approaches in order to fulfill our mission and we're exploring ways to partner and collaborate. Our collaborative efforts with Augsburg College including leasing space for one of their graduate programs, sharing our information technology platform and library resources all bode well as we imagine additional ways which can further strengthen our distinctive mission.

I am hopeful about the future, not only because of the efforts of our students, board, staff and faculty, to lean into the difficult work of transforming, but because our hope is rooted in Jesus Christ, the one who has been raised from the dead. I know that we are changing a lot of this institution's traditional patterns and this is disruptive for many. We will continue to explore questions ahead concerning the flourishing of how we better serve the need for more theological education, in more formats, for more parts of the world—all for the sake of God's mission. I trust that the Risen Christ holds us in the midst of this creative work.

Thank you for your prayers and faithful support.

Meet Kim and Sterling

Kim van der Giessen, who is pursuing an M.A. in Children, Youth and Family Ministry at Luther Seminary, hopes to spend her career working with inner city youth and she sees her seminary degree as an important move forward in pursuing that goal.

See Kim's story at www.luthersem.edu/kim.

Kim was one of 591 students enrolled at Luther Seminary during the 2015-16 academic year. Of those, 51 percent were women.

Master of Arts students like Kim made up 15 percent of enrolled students.

ELCA members accounted for 71 percent of the student body.

Thirty-one denominations including Kim's Christian Reformed Faith, made up the remaining 29 percent of students.

Kim is one of 10 M.A. CYF students and 120 M.Div. students enrolled in the distributed learning program.

The cost of Kim's tuition last year was $16,000.

When accounting for additional off-campus living expenses, a year of study cost approximately $35,578.

During the 2015-16 fiscal year:

Luther Seminary had 44 international students enrolled from 20 countries.

Luther Seminary had 157 students graduate on May 21, 2016.

There are 3,451 alums currently serving in ministry. Alums serve in all 50 states and 46 countries.

43 percent of students graduated without seminary debt. For the others, median debt was $53,467.

Donor support made up 58 percent of Luther Seminary's operating revenue when combining outright gifts and endowment income.

Sterling was one of 69 students hailing from Region 5 of the ELCA. Luther Seminary claims students from all nine regions.

Financial aid covered approximately 47.5 percent of the cost of tuition and fees for students like Sterling.

As a scholarship recipient, Sterling received part of the $2.1 million awarded during the 2015-16 academic year. On average, students receive $6,985 in scholarships and grants from Luther.

Sterling was among the 56 percent of Luther students who pursued an M.Div. degree in 2015-16.

Sterling received one of 469 scholarships awarded in 2015-16.

Sterling Lynk, who is pursuing his M.Div. degree in Congregational Mission and Leadership, has combined aspects of being a residential student at the seminary with the flexibility of online classes as a Distributed Learning (DL) student. One day each week, he makes the four-plus-hour one-way drive from Wisconsin to attend classes on campus.

See Sterling's story at www.luthersem.edu/sterling.
